

KECK MEDICINE OF USC – BUENA PARK

Providing cancer care and support for your Korean-speaking patients and their families

At Keck Medicine of USC – Buena Park, expert Korean-speaking physicians provide medical oncology care for a wide variety of cancers and blood diseases.

Having an expert cancer team close to home saves time and effort. Our physicians are members of the USC Norris Comprehensive Cancer Center, one of the eight original National Cancer Institute-designated Comprehensive Cancer Centers in the United States. USC Norris has revolutionized cancer research, treatment and prevention for more than 40 years.

Keck Medicine – Buena Park provides easy access to the specialized care and advanced treatments only available at an academic medical center. Our physicians provide personalized care, support and cultural awareness with convenient access for the Buena Park community.

FRIENDLY FACES, EXPERT CARE

Expert Korean American medical oncologists, nurses and staff provide a friendly, comfortable experience for your Korean-speaking patients.

- Through collaboration with Korean-speaking oncology specialists in each field that speak Korean, we offer the best solutions using the latest breakthrough treatments and clinical trials.
- We accept Medicare, Medi-Cal and PPO-insured patients.
- In addition to Korean translation service for various medical documents and estimated medical expenses, we provide information on other topics, including local transportation and housing, in Korean.
